Spoonwood Brewing Co. is a brewery, so come for the beer, stay for the beer, leave with the beer, and maybe dream about the beer. They brew everything on site and you might even see beer happening. Of course, they only offer their own brand, but they promise to keep it interesting. For the non-beer drinker, they offer premium California red and white wines on tap, along with a small selection of bottles and mead from Apis in Carnegie. Spoonwood is not a restaurant, but they do offer food and have a full-blown kitchen, an authentic wood-fired oven, and tabletops for more than 100 empty stomachs - all to support and enhance your enjoyment of the beer.

To quote Spoonwood: "Beer makes friends of strangers. So we thank you for gathering, for getting to know us, and for getting to know each other."
